

Conversation: Summary of the 2010 State of the Salmon Conference now posted on our website
Subject: Summary of the 2010 State of the Salmon Conference now posted on our website

To all 2010 State of the Salmon Conference registrants,

Our website is now updated with summary information from our spring conference “Ecological Interactions between Wild and Hatchery Salmon” held in Portland:

<http://www.stateofthesalmon.org/conference2010/> <<http://www.stateofthesalmon.org/conference2010/>>

On the updated site you will find:

- A broad overview with a few photos of the event
- PDF versions of all the conference presentations
- Links to press coverage of the event
- The conference program in English, Russian and Japanese

Please be patient as we work towards publishing a full proceedings of the conference. The proceedings will take the form of a special issue of the journal Environmental Biology of Fishes published by Springer Academic. We hope to publish the volume by late 2011.

Thank you all for making this event a great success!